Joan moved and Pat seconded to approve the Financial Reports. Voted unanimously.

   c. Financial Timeline – Comments made in support of the usefulness of the Timeline.
d. Haydenville Library physical condition – Pat asked if the lead paint abatement and painting project at the Haydenville Library should be a capital planning project. Rob noted that the two estimates for lead abatement each fall under the $10,000 capital planning minimum. Rob said he has four estimates in total, two for abatement only and two for abatement plus repainting. Joan noted that she hoped federal funds received by the town through the infrastructure bill could be used for the lead abatement project. It was suggested that we may want to use volunteer labor for repainting after the lead abatement work has been completed. Rob mentioned that the abatement process may not remove all of the lead, but would contain it safely.

Charlotte added that it was good that Bev brought all our maintenance issues to the attention of the Town Administrator and the Selectboard so they are aware of the problems. She also reported that she was able to clear the debris from the section of gutters under the power cables, and that her husband Ben Thompson removed the old book bin that was falling apart. Bev reported that oil deliveries were made to both libraries the previous week and that Nick Caccamo and the Selectboard are looking into installing freeze-warning alarms.

e. Staff pay equity project – The Collins Center at UMass will be completing its wage and salary study by June, too late to make a difference in our next budget request. Bev reported that we are the only department that has staff making less than the new minimum wage, and levels must be brought up to the new incremental minimum wage levels. Discussion ensued as to the advisability of asking for other salary increases in the next budget or of waiting for the Survey. Joan suggested that she, Rob and Ken get together to discuss the data from the MBLC that Rob provided. Bev will share the Paxton pay equity study with the board.

f. Board Representative for next Friends meeting – Pat will attend, Ken in February.

6. New Business
   a. Hotspot Lending Policy – Bev noted it was not ready.
7. Action items were reviewed.
